

Variables

Numbers 2

Floats

what you need to know is:

- You can deal with Python floats exactly like you deal with integers.
- You can use the function `type()` to know what's the type of a variable.
- You can use `float()` or `int()` to convert numbers between the different types